

WSASP Social Media Guidelines

Approved August 2020

Kind and Courteous: We're all in this together to create a welcoming environment. Let's treat everyone with respect. Healthy debates are natural, but kindness is required.

No Hate Speech or Bullying: Make sure everyone feels safe. Bullying of any kind isn't allowed, and degrading comments about things like race, religion, culture, sexual orientation, disability, gender or identity will not be tolerated.

No Promotions or Spam: Give more than you take to this group. Self-promotion, spam and irrelevant links aren't allowed. Job openings, internship positions, and research studies may be submitted at www.wsasp.org. Notices of job openings are limited to a single posting of no more than two sentences with a link to the application site.

Respect Everyone's Privacy: Being part of this group requires mutual trust. Authentic, expressive discussions make groups great, but may also be sensitive and private. Do not screenshot or copy/paste posts from other participants outside of the forum or group.

Maintain Confidentiality: Student identifying information or copyrighted materials should not be shared within this group. You may share a case study, but make sure the student is not identifiable.

Keep it Ethical: WSASP members are obligated to adhere to NASP's Principles for Professional Ethics. Members should not publicly question another user's ethics. If you have an ethical concern regarding another's behavior, contact the individual privately and follow the procedures for managing ethical concerns as required under the NASP Standards.

Posts will be moderated by volunteers. If a post is found to be in violation of one of these rules, one warning will be given to the individual, and a community reminder will be posted. If an individual demonstrates a pattern of behavior in violation of these rules, access to the social media forum or group will be denied.

Fine Print: WSASP social media accounts are maintained as a service for the members of WSASP. These include the WSASP Facebook page, Facebook group, Twitter account, and Whova event app forums. WSASP does not endorse, and is not responsible for, the opinions and information posted on WSASP social media accounts by others. Content posted does not constitute or describe WSASP's official policy, unless posted directly by the WSASP account. You are solely responsible for any content that you post. WSASP shall not be liable for any action or inaction with respect to any conduct on the WSASP social media accounts or with respect to any communications, or posting made on WSASP social media accounts.
